ELEVENTH ANNUAL Of the Great Vinita Fair.

Brilliant Prospects of Success.—The People Here
and Coming.—Likewise
the Exhibits.

The Eleventh Annual Exhibition of the Vinita Fair Association began to-day and lasts until Thursday night. Up to a few days ago it was feared that the Fair this year would not be as good as upon former occasions, owing to a number of causes. But this morning all doubts are dispelled as to whether we are to have a successful Fair or not. The exhibition begins prosperously, with sun and sky in its favor, but the dust is against our comfort and pleasure at least, if it does not prevent many from attending. Prof. Hicks has arranged and located all storms for the week east of us, and with the beautiful moonlight nights we ought to be content. Each day the fair will have separate attractions and new features. It should be understood that this is not Vi-nita's Fair, but will be aided by all the people in the adjacent country. In behalf of Vinita THE CHIEFTAIN says WELCOME, and is
"at home" to all who may come.

25c Pays for the Weekly Indian Chieftain to January 1, 1893.

Assistant Secretary Chamberlin
is a rustler.

The people in and around Vinita know how to patronize a fair.

Michler Bros., of Carthage, have entered four good horses for the races.

Hardin is getting about as much fun out of the fair as any man in town.

Add Roach has some blooded hogs on exhibition at the fair grounds.

Duke Kelley, the veteran horseracer, is on hand with four
"flyers."

The woman's department this year is in competent hands, and is attracting a warm interest.

Life's Many Mysteries.
Little Boy—What do folks want rats'
tails to be smooth for?
Papa—They don't.
Little Boy—Well, I heard a man in the store ask for a rat-tail file, anyhow.
—Good News.

Made a Name for Himself.
Wicks—By the way, what has become of Bjackson? I haven't seen him for a good many years.
Hicks—Bjackson? Why, don't you know? He went west fifteen years ago to make a name for himself.
Wicks—A name for himself, eh? And did he make it?
Hicks—Oh, yes.
Wicks—What was it?
Hicks—Dennis.—Somerville Journal.

Fair Warning.
Clara—Do you love him well enough to marry him if he should ask you?
Maude—But the man hasn't asked me
yet.
Clara—I know it. But last night after I had refused him he said he was going to.—Detroit Free Press.

When Greek Meets Greek.
Miss Summit—Mr. Jagway, I don't see how you have the effrontery to call on me. I saw you last night and you were in a disgraceful condition.
Jagway—I saw you also, Miss Summit, and I noticed that your hat wasn't on straight.—Life.

Disinterested Advice.
He—I have decided to ask your father's consent by letter, Pauline. Now what sort of a letter would you advise me to make it?
She—I think, Horace, that I would make it an anonymous letter.—Life.

What Jamie Had.
"I've got a pony and a cart," said Jack.
"Well, I've got a goat," bragged Tom.
"I've got legs and can walk," retorted
Jamie.—Harper's Young People.

The Ruling Passion.
Young Lady—Mercy me! And so, when fast in the jungle, you came face to face with a tiger. Ooo! What did you do?
Modern Traveler (proudly)—Photographed it.—N. Y. Weekly.

EVOLUTION OF THE WATERMELON.

Alec McGulley, of Oswego, owner of Verney Ward, is on the grounds ready for a race.
